Victorious Festival is a large-scale event in the overall calendar for Portsmouth delivering a nationally significant festival in the city. Encouraging such large-scale events was a primary action of the Council's Events Strategy 2017 - 2021. Securing the event further is important as an enhancement for the city's reputation which in turn will attract and promote the city as a good place to host and deliver events.

The value of the festival to the city is significant as is outlined in the report with an estimated direct economic impact of the event being in the region of £12.5 million. The impact on the local economy through the secondary spend in hotel, hospitality and retail is therefore significant and hosting large-scale events continues to provide opportunities for local businesses to benefit.

How are you going to measure/check the impact of your proposal?

We anticipate that further information on this can be gathered through future economic impact assessments of the event.
